MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Personnel

SUBJECT : Access to Official Personnel Files by Employees and their Attorneys

1. Questions have developed concerning access to official personnel files by employees and their attorneys.

2. It is clear that under Civil Service Regulations the official personnel file must be made available to the employee concerned. See attached a copy of section 294.703 of Subpart G of Title 5 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Also see a copy of my memorandum of 28 February 1973 on this subject (OGC 73-0337). Mr. Houston's memorandum of 2 April 1973 (attached) records his agreement with Mr. Brownman that the Agency will give the employee and his attorney access to his file, subject to certain conditions.

3. It will be noted that section 294.703 requires that the official personnel folder be made available to the employee "or to his representative designated in writing." <sup>1/</sup> The designated representative, of course, could be an attorney of the employee's choice. It might be well to take the precaution of obtaining the employee's written designation before making the file available to the attorney or another representative. Mr. Pollock could ask the employee to sign a letter addressed to the Director of Personnel reading substantially as follows:

I authorize and request that my official personnel file in the Office of Personnel of CIA be disclosed to _____.

<sup>1/</sup> It would strain common sense to interpret this language to require that access be given the employee or his designated representative, but not to both.

4. The policy spelled out in Mr. Houston's memorandum is somewhat narrower than the provisions of section 294.703. In any given instance it might appear desirable not to confine our actions to those approved by the Brownman-Houston policy. I suggest that Personnel representatives be as responsive and cooperative as possible to the employee's request. If at any time a Personnel representative thinks the employee has a reasonable request or one which might prevent or reduce criticism by the employee or his attorney, but which is outside the authority outlined in Mr. Houston's memorandum, he should recommend that the Agency meet the request. The Director of Personnel or this Office would act on the recommendation, seeking Mr. Brownman's approval when necessary.
